I would like to spend a moment speaking to you on behalf of Nikita Koloff. Mr. Koloff came to speak to my student body this afternoon. He brought a message of hope and encouragement that many students needed to hear from someone outside of their home and personal lives. His message was meant to teach students that there is another way to react to the negative vibes they hear from this world. He was direct and to the point in a way that hit home with these kids. I have never had a student body reward a speaker with a standing ovation, but they did today. I highly recommend Mr. Koloff to speak at any school, because the children of today's world need to hear that famous people are real people who lived out dreams through hard work and effort. Please call the school if you would like to speak to me personally.

Sincerely,
